

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A threaded closure for a liquid container including tamper-indicating means, having a floating liner which permits the breaking of the tamper-
5 indicating means before the seal formed by the liner is broken. The liner includes a side-seal which extends downwardly from a transversely extending main wall. The side wall of the closure includes a deformable pressure block which distorts radially inwardly when engaged by the uppermost thread surrounding the mouth of the container to engage the side wall and press it against an outer surface of the neck of the container.

I hereby certify that this correspondence is being deposited with the United States Postal Service as first class mail in an envelope addressed to:
Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C.

20231, on

6/30/03

Date

6/30/03

By

Charles E. Kivela